

New Army Antiaircraft System Shown at Meade

'Missile Master' Plan Can Operate With or Separate Of 'SAGE,' 11 Nike Installations Cover Wide Sector

Ft. George G. Meade, Md., March 23 (AP)—A newly unveiled army antiaircraft system was said by Secretary Brucker today to be capable of detecting an enemy's "aircraft and missiles" and coordinating the firing of Nike missiles against them.

The army calls the complex radar-Nike system "Missile Master." Newsmen were shown the first development center which controls Nike defenses of the Washington-Baltimore area. This army post lies between those two cities.

THEIR CURRENT defenses apparently include 11 Nike installations spotted over a wide area. Each such installation has eight launchers.

The "Missile Master" system can be operated either independently or in conjunction with the over-all "Sage" air and anti-aircraft defense systems run by the air force. In general, it is a smaller, localized version of the Sage system. (Sage means "semi-automatic ground control" of fighter interceptors and anti-aircraft weapons.)

Brucker made his reference to the ability of the army's system to cope with missiles as well as planes in a brief statement.

RECALLING comments by missile specialists that there is now no known method for intercepting the ballistic missile (which flies at many times the speed of sound and 100 miles or more high), reporters asked what kind of a missile Brucker had in mind.

A spokesman said the secretary had no intention to "sensationalize" the missile master system. He intended, the spokesman said, only "to state a fact, previously published, that the Nike has been fired successfully at missiles." The spokesman said he could not say more.

However, he appeared to be referring to reports that a Nike missile had shot down an air force strategic bombardment missile, the matador, essentially a pilotless jet bomber. The matador flies at a speed under that of sound (760 miles an hour). The Nike is believed to have a speed of about 1,500 miles an hour.

BOILED DOWN, this seemed to mean that the army believes it can knock down the fastest jet bomber, can deal similarly with plane-like missiles, but can't cope with ballistic missiles.

A forerunner of the missile master was designed in 1950 and the system has been in operation here for almost two years. It is the research product of the army and the Glenn L. Martin Co. aided by the Airborne Instruments Laboratory of Mineola, Long Island, N. Y., and the American Machine and Foundry Co. of New York.

What newsmen saw was a building packed with radar, computing and communications equipment. Sweeping, green pencils of light on radar scopes; the chatter of computing machines; illuminated charts that show the arrival of planes in the

Would Bar Cotton Return As Cheap Competing Goods

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Low cost foreign manufacturers who receive surplus U. S. cotton should be required to market their finished products in underdeveloped countries instead of sending these products to compete with U. S. goods, a southern textile executive said today.

F. E. Grier of Greenwood, S. C., first vice president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, discussed the new export program which goes into effect in August in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Atlantic Cotton Assn.

"It is the height of folly that the low cost foreign manufacturers, who will now have the chance to get bountiful supplies of American fiber at lower world prices, should be deliberately encouraged to bypass the regions of want and put their products into the United States—the one country of plenty," Grier said.

He said those in underdeveloped areas are faced with needs "made to order for Communist exploitation, unless essential goods are diverted to them."

These areas "are being bypassed deliberately, and low wage producers like Japan are given a wide open invitation to ship their goods into the United States," he continued.

Grier said the new export program can mean "a bright new chapter in the expansion of world cotton consumption" if precautions are taken against dumping and if the plan is related to the entire problem of international trade.

MASTER WEAPON — Soldiers at Fort Meade, Md., set up photo-electric light guns as part of a new Missile Master — the country's first electronic system designed for controlling and coordinating anti-aircraft missile batteries and other advanced Army weapons as they become available. The New Missile Master was developed by the Army and Glenn Martin Co. (NEA Telephoto).

Centralization Study Is Asked in Four Townships

A petition requesting study on centralization of certain school districts in the towns of Ulster, Hurley, Woodstock and Kingston has been circulated among members of the boards of education in the districts enumerated, it was announced today by Attorney Louis DiDonna of the town of Ulster.

Seventeen districts were invited to attend a meeting at the Court House last Wednesday evening, Mr. DiDonna reported, and 13 of the districts were represented. A second meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, March 28, he said, to afford all trustees and members of the boards of education an opportunity to express their views on the petition to the state education commissioner.

Approximately five of the districts have signed the petition, Mr. DiDonna said, but he expected "that almost every district will join in this request."

The Wednesday night meeting was organized by Reginald Russell, principal of the Chambers School, Harold Keator, Jr., and Mr. DiDonna. Mr. Keator served as temporary chairman of the March 21 meeting.

Mr. DiDonna said the problem was discussed at last Wednesday's meeting and the only district which offered strenuous objection to the proposed centralization study was Union Free School District No. 4, town of Hurley.

Mr. DiDonna said it was felt that a study for a centralization study is necessary because of the inquiries "which we have

General Who Led Revolt on Peron Fatally Stricken

Buenos Aires, Argentina, March 23 (AP)—Argentina prepared highest military rites today for the funeral of Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi, anti-Peron revolt leader who was ousted after serving less than two months as the fallen dictator's successor.

Lonardi, 59, died last night after a cerebral hemorrhage in Buenos Aires' central military hospital. He had been in ill health since his ouster and was treated in the United States last December for high blood pressure.

Lonardi was sworn in Sept. 23 as president of the provincial government that succeeded the Peron regime. He "resigned" Nov. 13 in another military coup that put Maj. Gen. Pedro Aramburu in the presidential post. Aramburu had been army chief of staff in Lonardi's government and a chief leader in the army-navy revolt against Peron.

Lonardi's opponents charged he would not rid his regime of reactionary holdovers from Peron's days.

Funeral services will be held at 8 a. m. Saturday at Chacarita

Convicted Negro Leader Will Continue Segregation Fight

Montgomery, Ala., March 23 (AP)—A convicted leader in the Negro boycott of city buses here has pledged to continue the fight against segregation "no matter how many times" he is convicted of violating Alabama's anti-boycott law.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. was convicted yesterday of violating the boycott law and was fined $500 by circuit judge Eugene Carter.

Last night, the 27-year-old Baptist pastor vowed at a mass meeting to continue fighting for "justice and equality" and to keep on in a leading role in the protest movement "no matter how many times they convict me."

King has been prominent in the 17-week-old campaign against segregated seating on city buses.

Negroes here generally were expected to prolong their mass protest despite King's conviction.

The fine assessed against King was suspended after defense attorneys served notice of an appeal. The attorneys said they would take the appeal all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary in another test of the south's segregation laws.

King, pastor of the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, told his Negro audience last night that "freedom doesn't come on a silver platter." He added: "Some of the things we have to go through are a necessary part of our campaign. There can never be growth without growing pains."

He was given an ovation.

In addition to the $500 fine which was suspended, King was also charged with court costs of approximately $500. This was converted into a jail sentence totaling about 386 days since he chose to appeal rather than pay the money.

King, together with 89 other Negro leaders still awaiting trial on similar boycott charges, had exercised his right to a non-jury trial.

The conviction was announced by Carter at the end of a four-day trial. Circuit Solicitor William F. Thetford said the state had agreed to postpone the trials of other defendants pending King's appeal.

Rhee Will Run for Third Term

Seoul, March 23 (AP)—Bowling to the "will of the people," President Syngman Rhee agreed to run for a third term. Few had thought the old man would pass up the chance.

The expected announcement was issued by the government-information office, which said the 80-year-old president had "finally conceded to the will of the people and changed his mind."

Rhee startled South Korea's 20 millions on March 5 when he said—following his nomination by his Liberal party—"I do not want to run."

Rhee pleaded age, a desire to sit back and the hope a more vigorous man would come forward. He quickly added that he did not want to act against the public will.

Leaders of the Liberal party stuck to their course "in anticipation that the public will eventually succeed in getting Rhee to change his mind."

London Gets Report

Egyptians Training In Poland

London, March 23 (AP)—The foreign office said today Britain has received secret reports that "a considerable number" of Egyptians are under military training in Poland.

A spokesman told reporters the British government "places reliance on these reports," but he would not disclose their source. He said the matter will be taken into account in determination of Britain's middle eastern policies.

BRITISH informants estimated about 200 Egyptian officers and noncommissioned officers are being trained in land, sea and air operations and the use of armaments at a Soviet base near Poland's Baltic sea port of Gdynia. Their instruction was reported to include the use of radar, submarines and all forms of artillery.

The training facilities are understood to be an extension of the 1955 deal under which Communist Czechoslovakia sold arms to Egypt for Egyptian cotton and rice, the informants said.

THE FOREIGN office spokesman said the British government also is aware that Czech army officers are training Egyptian air force men in the use of Soviet block aircraft at airfields near the Egyptian port of Alexandria.

Egypt is the leader of Arab block nations surrounding Israel. Premier Gamel Abdel Nasser declared in announcing the deal with Czechoslovakia that the arms were needed for defense against a threat of Israeli aggression. An Israeli request for United States arms is pending in Washington.

The foreign office spokesman made this initial statement in answer to reporters' questions:

"WE HAVE received reports that a considerable number of Egyptians are being trained in Poland. The British government places reliance on these reports. It is not for us to comment on them. All factors, this included, are taken into account in determination of Middle Eastern policy."

The spokesman was asked to comment further on a New York

Housing Program Dies In Aldermen's Meeting To Talk Over Details

BPW Plan On Drain Announced

12th Ward Would Pay Biggest Share

Construction of a trunk line storm drain in the bed of the Main street brook on a special assessment basis is recommended by the Board of Public Works as the feasible remedial action to eliminate further flood conditions in the 12th ward, it was announced today.

A RESOLUTION adopted by the board said it "will consider further action in connection with this problem, when it is presented with a petition signed by at least 51 per cent of the property owners affected, indicating their willingness to bear 75 per cent of the cost of said improvement, and the city to bear 25 per cent thereof."

Richard W. Dillon, chairman of the Twelfth Ward Citizens Committee, meanwhile, issued a statement today in which he asks the city for a "definite answer" and announced a meeting for discussion of the proposal in the Common Council chamber, city hall March 26 at 7:30 p. m.

THE BPW resolution noted that "a number of citizens of the 12th ward have complained to the Board of Public Works of the condition, requesting that it be remedied as a citywide charge."

The city engineer, it said, "has filed a report with this board stating his opinion to be that the situation can be corrected by the construction of a trunk line storm drain in the bed of the present Main street brook."

IT ALSO NOTED that the corporation counsel "has filed an opinion to the effect that such

Rail Firemen Are Fighting to Keep Their Diesel Jobs

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Railroad firemen, contending they are needed on diesel locomotives, have threatened a nationwide strike if necessary to protect their jobs.

The firemen's brotherhood set no deadline, but its president H. E. Gilbert advised President Eisenhower in a letter yesterday the union would take "the sternest measures of resistance," including a strike, if the carriers go through with what the union calls a move to abolish its members' jobs.

A smaller but more immediate strike threat came from the Transport Workers Union (TWU). Presidents of 52 TWU

Phone Rate-Case Bill Faces Death

Proposal for 20 Extra Justiceships Is Killed

Albany, March 23 (AP)—A proposal to create 20 new State Supreme Court justiceships was killed and the telephone rate-case bill, backed by Gov. Harriman, was in danger of death today as the Legislature approached final adjournment of the 1956 session.

The jurist measure was recommended in the Assembly on motion of the majority leader, Joseph Carlino.

The Democratic minority leader, Eugene F. Bannigan, announced that the bill was opposed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York and that the Democrats were solidly against it.

THERE WAS a bare chance that a bill to increase the number of justiceships by 21, passed yesterday in the Senate, would reach a floor vote.

Meanwhile in the Senate it was touched and gone on a bill that would authorize the Public Service Commission to use capital actually invested, instead of re-production costs, as the basis for regulating telephone rates.

Early this afternoon the measure still was tied up in the GOP-controlled Rules Committee, but it was reported the Republican leaders were trying to muster enough votes to get it out on the floor for a final decision. The bill passed the Assembly Wednesday. It would make it more difficult for the New York Telephone Company to get the $68,850,000 rate increase it seeks from the PSC.

Harriman, still battling with the Republicans, made it plain that if the bill died he would blame them.

THE SENATE approved and sent to the Assembly for final passage the $93,846,000 supplemental budget.

With the end of the session only a few hours off, majority was set to pass a $35,000,000 appropriation, to supplement the regular one, for road building.

Among the other measure slated for action was a bill to give State Supreme Court Justices a $2,000 salary increase.

Strong opposition was reported to have developed against the telephone rate-case bill. Harriman took cognizance of this and tried to save the day.

Uniform Jury Plan Upheld In Appeals Court Ruling

Albany, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today upheld the constitutionality of a law setting up a uniform jury system in the state.

The state's highest tribunal rejected, 4-1, a taxpayers' action challenging the effect of a 1955 amendment to the law.

Associate Judge Charles S.

HE SAID in a special message to the Legislature:

"If by any chance the Senate should fail to take favorable action on this bill, those responsible for blocking its passage will have to answer to the people of the state for what may well turn out to be increases in telephone rates of almost 50 million dollars annually."

"I cannot believe," he said, "that any members of the Legislature" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Dulles Will Tell How to Block Reds

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles tells the nation tonight about his current ideas for blocking efforts by Russia to penetrate the free nations of Asia politically and economically.

He will broadcast a public version of his report on a 27,000-mile Asian trip — a report described by several Congress members yesterday as moderately optimistic from the free world viewpoint.

DULLES GAVE such a report to three separate groups in secret sessions yesterday, and arranged to do so twice more today. First on his schedule was a cabinet meeting, then a session with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

His talk tonight (10:30 p. m.) will be carried by ABC radio and television and by CBS radio networks. NBC arranged to carry it on radio in a delayed broadcast (11:30 p. m.).

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, meanwhile, called in top State Department, Defense Department and intelligence advisers to consult (11:15 a. m.) on an unannounced subject, possibly continuing middle east tension.

March 31 Is Deadline in State Setup

Desire More Data On Federal Plan

Common Council action on public housing appears unlikely this year, it was learned today, after an informal discussion last night by the aldermen, Mayor Frederick H. Stang, members of the planning board and other city officials in the city court room, city hall.

A special meeting of the council was expected to be held next week if the aldermen indicated interest in acting on a housing proposal before the March 31, deadline, but since no sentiment developed in that direction last night, the meeting will not be called.

THE ALDERMEN, who voted earlier in the year in favor of an urban renewal study by the federal government, also indicated that they will require further information on that proposal before taking the next required step to get it under way. March 31 marks the end of the state's fiscal year and the housing authority has been informed that the city would probably not be considered for public housing money after that date.

A $40,000 fund for a study by federal officials of the city's urban renewal needs stands approved by the councilmen, but they indicated last night that they will require more information on initial expenditures by the city to get the plan under way, before taking further action.

Mayor Stang said today that he expects to obtain the requested information for presentation to the aldermen at their April 3 meeting. Further action on an urban renewal plan may be taken this year because the aldermen already have taken the first step in favor of the plan.

THE NEXT STEP, it was indicated today, is authorization of enough money to pay the cost of compiling information needed by the federal officials before they begin the study to determine the city's housing needs. The aldermen want full information on this phase of the proposal before taking further action.

The study, for which the $40,000 federal fund was approved, would not be a city cost, if it rejects an urban renewal plan, but if it accepts one, it would be charged for about a third of the cost. The city would also be obligated to prepare a master plan, the cost of which is unknown at this time.

AN URBAN renewal plan has been proposed for a section of the sixth ward, including an area, which has information cleared in conjunction with the city's Colonial Gardens project.

Much controversy developed during the past several weeks over the public housing proposal with the Rondout Area Business Men's Association, the Ulster County Real Estate Board, and others strongly opposing plans as outlined by local, state and federal officials.

Union Head Raps U. S. Steel On Inflation Trend Report

Pittsburgh, March 23 (AP)—President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union says "the gains won by the workers in the steel industry through their union have not caused inflation."

McDonald, in a statement issued yesterday, said U. S. Steel Corp. used its annual report "to insult both the steelworkers union and our government as being the 'two basic roots' of an inflationary trend."

"The central fact omitted in the corporation's report," McDonald said, "is that the cost of these gains has been more than offset by increases in productivity."

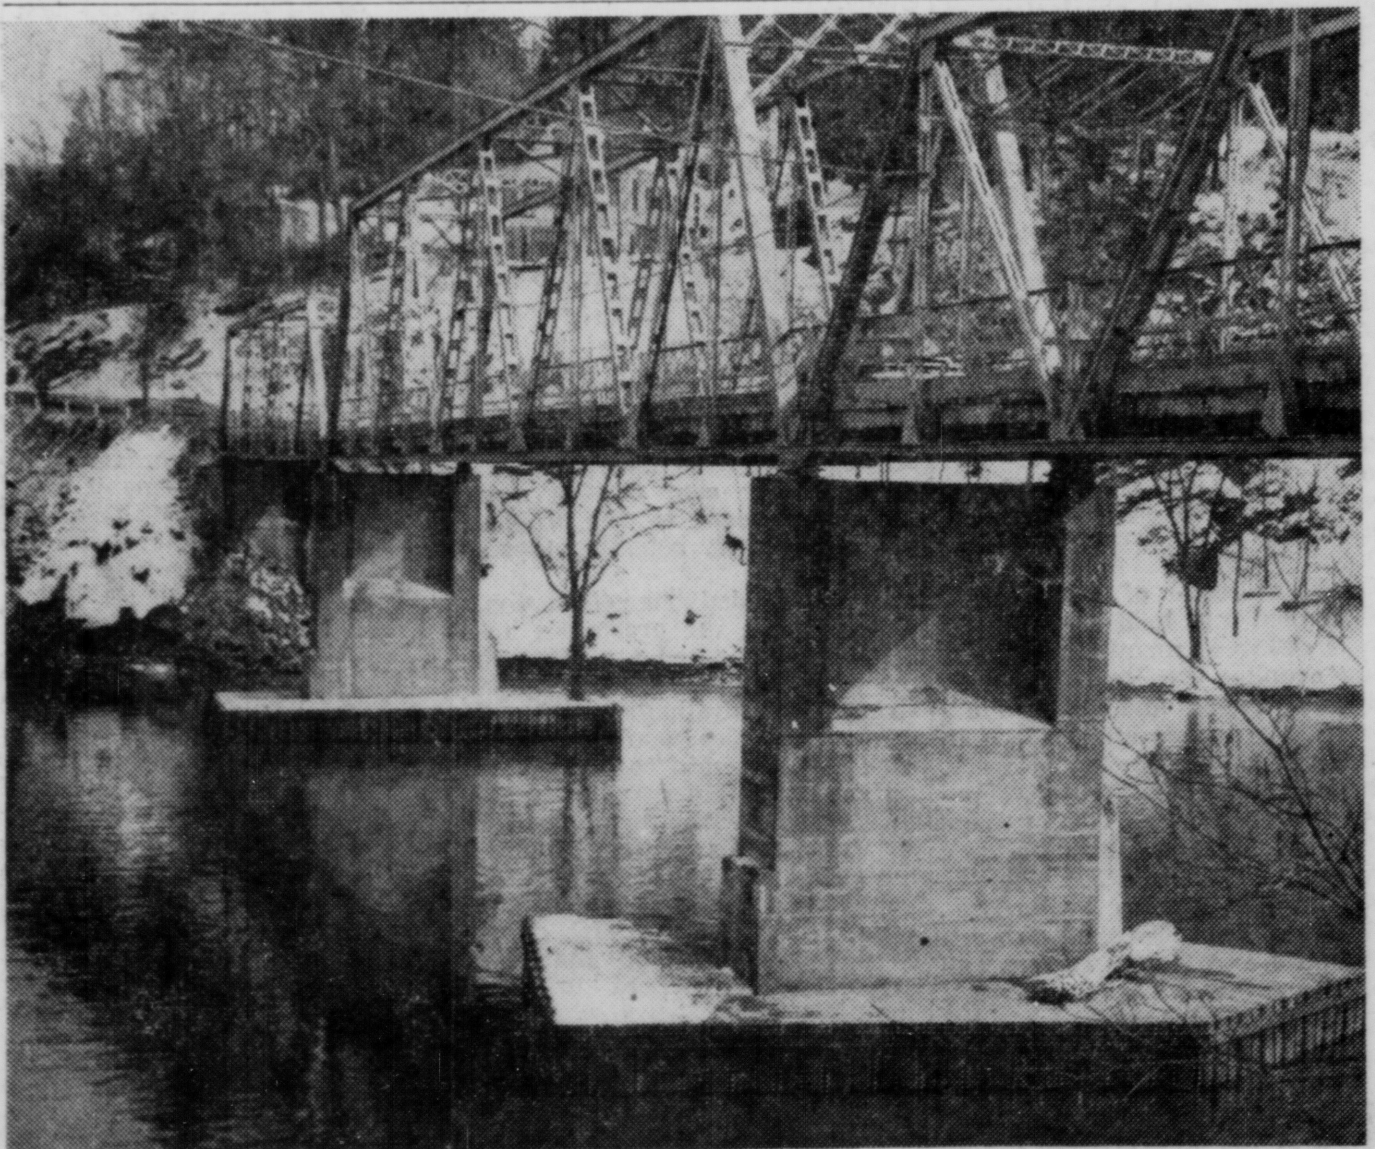

In its annual report, U. S. Steel said the government's full employment policy and industry wide labor unions are the roots of an inflationary tendency, adding that the main cause was: "The institution of industry-wide labor unions headed by leaders, who, with power to bring about industry-wide strikes, seek always to outdo each other in elevating employment costs in their respective industries."

To this statement, McDonald replied: "Indeed the corporation made a neat profit on the wage increase last year. The theoretical cost to U. S. Steel of the 1955 wage increase was approximately 30 million dollars—the actual cost was zero. But the corporation raised steel prices $7.50 a ton."

"This price increase brought in more than 96 million dollars in addition to profits for the last six months of 1955 — a clear profit of 66 million dollars over and above the theoretical cost of the wage increase."

McDonald said U. S. Steel should have congratulated "the management-labor team responsible for this achievement."

2,700 See Lions' Show; Total Now At 6,600 Figure

Total three-night attendance at the ninth annual Lions Club Industrial Exposition and Home Show—Kingston Area on Parade—was more than 6,600 persons, Warren F. Smith, chairman, announced today. He said 2,700 persons attended the show last night.

With only tonight and Saturday night remaining, Mr. Smith said he expected the 6,600 figure would be equalled on the last two nights and predicted to-night's attendance would exceed 4,000 persons, possibly the biggest night of the show.

TOTAL ATTENDANCE thus far is only 20 paid admissions less compared with last year's show, he said, in pointing out that enthusiasm "is still running high." Last year approximately 15,000 saw the show.

Mr. Smith said he felt the arrangement of this year's show, which includes 125 booths has lessened crowded conditions which heretofore have existed. A rest area for show patrons has also been provided this year and Mr. Smith said he was grateful to Kings Landscaping Company for the attractive floral display which has enhanced the rest area.

Doors open tonight at 7 o'clock.

No Red Comment

London, March 23 (AP)—The United States has asked Russia to join in a military manpower cut which would whittle the armed forces of each nation to 2½ million men. The plan was placed before the five-power UN disarmament subcommittee yesterday by Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's personal adviser. The Russians made no immediate comment. Stassen said the plan, which would seek proportional cuts by Britain, France and other nations, calls for a parallel reduction in armaments and military spending of each country.

Stevenson May Shift Plan, Kefauver Sees Hard Fight

(By The Associated Press)

Adlai Stevenson's camp was pondering today a possible shift in campaign techniques in the light of Stevenson's jolting setback by Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in the Minnesota Democratic presidential primary. Meantime Kefauver pushed deeper into California, using his tried-and-proven style of vote-seeking. Despite his upset victory in Minnesota last Tuesday, the Tennesseean said in Richmond, Calif., he still faces "a hard fight" against Stevenson in California.

KEFAUVER AND Stevenson, vying for the Democratic presidential nomination, meet head-on four more times before their party's August convention in Chicago—in primaries in Alaska April 24, the District of Columbia May 1, Florida May 29 and California June 5.

Surveying the wreckage of their hopes in Minnesota, Stevenson and his aides indicated in Chicago they attributed his defeat there to a failure to put his ideas across. Kefauver won 26 of the state's 30 convention votes. Stevenson salvaged only four. But Stevenson backers professed not to be discouraged. Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago said he didn't think "the nomination is going to be decided on the vote of one state."

James Finnegan of Philadelphia, Stevenson's campaign manager, said 10-day campaigns planned in both Florida and California may be stretched out. Also, Stevenson is being urged to shake more hands, to be a bit less formal, and to concentrate his speech material on subjects that strike his listeners closest to home.

But Stevenson said he intends "to continue to express myself on the issues as I see them." He said he would not try to "out promise" anybody. And he made it plain he intends to follow his self-imposed course of "moderation"—even if it costs him the presidential nomination. Stevenson said he had received a "great volume" of mail and telegrams urging him to push his fight for the nomination.

Kefauver, moving from the San Francisco area into Southern California, said that since his Minnesota victory he has received new offers of support indicating to him that some Democrats, who have been neutral or backing other candidates or postponing their position.

"THEY HADN'T been for me because they didn't think I could win in the Minnesota primary," Kefauver said. "Well, I won, and now—this is what is happening."

However, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said in Washington "the south will not accept" Kefauver as the Democratic presidential nominee. Ellender said the south "will not go for Kefauver's views on civil rights." The Louisiana senator said it looked to him as though Stevenson will lose popularity "from here on out" and that "it will be necessary to nominate someone else other than Kefauver."

Ellender said his first choice for the nomination is Sen. Kerr (D-Okl.) but that Kerr "doesn't seem to want it." Thus, Ellender added, "I'd be 100 per cent for Lyndon Johnson," the Senate Democratic leader who has said he is considering a suggestion that he seek endorsement as Texas' favorite son candidate.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, a Stevenson backer, said in Hartford he wants no part of any "stop Kefauver" move—if any should develop within the Democratic party.

IN HARRISBURG, Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania—a state with one of the biggest delegations to the national convention—said he remains for Stevenson, who he said is "still the strongest possible candidate the Democrats can put forward."

Local Educators Attend Meeting In Poughkeepsie

Another in a series of meetings of school boards and officials for the discussion of school problems was held Thursday night at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie. Attending were representatives from various communities in Ulster county and adjacent counties.

From Kingston was Superintendent of Schools Earl F. Soper, Trustees Bertha Connelly, W. E. Rynance, Robert Herzog and David Kline. apply only to the 15 counties with a population of 100,000 or more.

In the majority opinion, Chief Judge Albert Conway said that the 1955 legislature "acting with reason rather than from caprice" had created a separate class of counties in the belief that these counties "because of their small population had such a limited financial capacity, potential, and economic makeup, that mandatory compliance with the 1954 law would be unduly burdensome."

The court held that the breaking figure of 100,000 was not arbitrary. "It was a way of separating the small counties from the mid-sized counties, and the chosen figure was reasonably suited to achieve that end," Conway's opinion said. "We are not passing upon the advisability of the change."

"With the legislature resides the power and discretion to shape policy," Conway wrote. "This is so, even if, as claimed, one legislature violently disagrees with its predecessor. If the 1955 legislature erred, it is for subsequent legislatures to cure the error and not for the judiciary to undertake to do it."

construction work must be done under the special assessment provisions of the charter, and at least 75 per cent of the cost thereof be borne by the property immediately benefited thereby.

It was decided after discussion, it said, "that the properties immediately benefited are those in the drainage area 3-C (Main street brook, drainage area), and these properties would have to bear the aforesaid assessment."

Dillon's statement was apparently made without knowledge of the board's action, and it contended that the city had "failed to tell the people of the 12th ward what they are going to do." He indicated that the meeting would be held "to get a definite answer."

Bronx Man Sought For Area Theft, Given Jail Term

A Bronx man, sought since last August by the Ulster county sheriff's office for the alleged theft of $38 from a Rosendale summer resident, was arrested in New York city Thursday on a petit larceny charge.

Alex Zisk, 41, of 115 Moshulu Parkway, was picked up by Sheriff Cluett Schantz, County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Detective J. M. McGarvey of the New York City Police Department.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky of the town of Rosendale, Zisk pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in the Ulster county jail.

General Who Led Cemetery in western Buenos Aires

Aramburu will deliver an address honoring Lonardi tonight and is expected to declare tomorrow a day of national mourning. The provisional president was touring Cardoba province when he received word of Lonardi's death. He called off his trip last night to return to the capital.

Despite the homage the government chiefs readied for their discarded associate, his family obviously had not forgiven his ouster any more than he did. The vice president, Rear Adm. Isaac Rojas, hurried to the hospital at word of Lonardi's death and proposed that the body lie in state in the "White Salon" of Government House. Instead, the family chose the quiet French Catholic Champagnat College.

The regime, after kicking Lonardi out, had promoted him to the rank of lieutenant general, saying he could not take any reward for his participation in the revolt against Peron. The obituary notice issued by his family today gave his rank as major general.

urban renewal project to build up a sixth ward area, but they want no tie-in with public housing site, and the former Kingston Point Park area was suggested as another with later possibilities. Each such project requires the clearing of sub-standard areas, and the downtown merchants expressed fear that another sixth ward section would be cleared of sub-standard structures before start of an urban renewal plan to build up the section already cleared.

PROPOSALS of public housing, including George E. Jerry Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority, held that the city would gain much more through a tie-in with public housing than it would if it approved only an urban renewal development.

Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy and City Clerk Bernhardt S. Kramer attended last night's meeting.

CH Votes Dividend

The board of directors of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. at its monthly meeting held today at South road office, Poughkeepsie declared a dividend of 20 cents per share on its common stock payable May 1, 1956 to stockholders of record on April 10. Today's declared dividend represents an increase of 1 cent over the last quarterly dividend. In announcing the dividend increase, Ernest R. Acker, president of Central Hudson said, "This increase from the quarterly rate of 19 cents per share paid since February 1, 1955 reestablishes the rate paid prior to the war. It reflects the final disposition of all accounting adjustments resulting from public service commission proceedings several years ago and reflects the present prosperity and rapid economic development of the central Hudson valley."

Set Rail Strike Date

Cleveland, March 23 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen today set next Monday for a strike against the Nickel Plate Railroad, a dispute over rules changes and other issues. It was the second time this year the brotherhood has set a strike date against the railroad. M. W. Hampton of Cleveland, brotherhood vice president, said the National (railway) Mediation Board has

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 23 (AP)—The stock market advanced today, but the burden of the rise in the early afternoon was on the oils. The advance took the market to another in a series of new record highs, making it four new peaks out of five sessions this week.

Prices were up around 3 points at the best with most of the big gainers in the oil division. There were plenty of minus signs in the list, but they usually were fractional.

Rail Firemen Are

locals voted in Pittsburgh yesterday to call a strike of 25,000 nonoperating workers of the Pennsylvania Railroad unless a dispute over layoffs is resolved. The strike would involve repair maintenance and service personnel not directly concerned with the operation of trains, employed by the Pennsylvania system between New York and Chicago.

Under the Railway Labor Act, either strike would have to be postponed for 60 days if the National (railroad) Mediation Board intervenes. The firemen, who won pay raises ranging from 10% to more than 30 cents an hour last October, now are seeking a $3 daily wage boost. They now earn about $100 a week.

Poughkeepsie, March 23 (AP)—Paul North, 37-year-old laborer, was sentenced to a prison term of 20 years to life today in the Dec. 29 slaying of his common law wife, Olga Ballard, 25. North had been indicted on a first degree murder charge, but was permitted to plead guilty to a second degree count. North shot the woman to death with a pistol in the village of Wingdale, Dutchess county, when he failed in an effort to bring about a reconciliation with her after they became estranged.

Centralization

gotten now that the voters understand that a vote on greater Kingston area consolidation will soon be coming up.

The people want to know what are the advantages and disadvantages of the different types of school district. Mr. DiDonna declared, "So far we have not been able to give them the details because a study such as we requested has not been made available."

He pointed out that the group also "strongly felt" that it would be impossible to have a vote on one proposition "and intelligently vote on that proposition unless it knew the details of other choices."

"It must be understood that this is not a commitment on the part of any district that it is desirous of having a centralization of the enumerated districts rather than an adoption of the Kingston consolidation but rather that this is only a request for some facts and figures as to what centralization of the enumerated districts would mean in terms of dollars and cents and in terms of the desirability of such a system of education, schedules, programs, extracurricular activities and so on," Mr. DiDonna said.

The total true value of the enumerated school districts is $47,334,452, Mr. DiDonna pointed out, and the present kindergarten through 12th grade enrollment of the districts is 1,885 students.

Districts involved in the proposed study, he said, include Common School Districts 1, 2, 3, 5 and 6 of the town of Ulster, Union Free School Districts 4, 7 and 8 of the town of Ulster, Common School District 1, of the town of Kingston, Common School Districts 1, 3, 6 and 8 of the town of Hurley, Union Free School Districts 4 and 5 of the town of Hurley, and Common School Districts 2 and 7 of the town of Woodstock.

Under the arms deal, the Cairo government is likely, according to British estimates, to get 300 T34 Stalin tanks, between 200 and 300 Mig jet fighters, more than 50 Ilyushin jet bombers and about a half dozen submarines. A big supply of small arms also is believed to be in the Prague-Cairo pipeline.

report that Britain recently completed a plan for effective military action in case of a second Arab-Israeli war, with the object of stopping the spread of any such fighting.

"We have plans which could be put into action very rapidly in such a contingency when it has been decided to do so," the spokesman replied.

HE MADE IT clear the British government does not envisage acting on its own, however, and he called attention to American, British and French consultations under way in Washington on the Middle East situation.

These three-power exchanges were undertaken to figure out ways of implementing the 1950 declaration under which the United States, Britain and France pledged to resist any forcible attempts to change the Mideast frontiers.

Aircraft Ads Are Scrutinized in Academy's Talon

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Talon, the publication of the new Air Force Academy, has come in for congressional scrutiny with its very first issue.

Rep. Hebert (D-La.) said today he has asked the staff of a House Armed Services subcommittee he heads to inquire into the type of advertising by the aircraft industry in the new academy magazine.

"It could be a bad situation," Hebert said.

"Several years ago, in the matter of printing programs for football games at the Military Academy, we investigated and uncovered a condition which also caused Secretary Marshall to take action. (The reference was to former Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall.)

"We had to stop it at West Point, and we may have to stop it at the Air Academy. Why should an aircraft company advertise in an academy magazine?"

Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), displaying the first issue of Talon at a subcommittee hearing this week, pointed out several pages of aircraft company advertisements.

"I have nothing against advertisements not charged up to the government contracts of the companies involved," Hess said.

"If the cost of the ads is taken out of company profits, that is one thing. Ads for which the government is expected to pay are another matter."

Air force officers told the subcommittee this week only two classes of advertising are permitted as legitimate costs on government aircraft contracts: Help wanted ads and advertising in trade journals.

BABSON on BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES SHORTER WORK-WEEK

Babson Park, Mass., March 23 — Today's news features on automatic factories, cheap atomic power, and political uncertainties are grist for the labor unions. Their leaders are saying these things will cause unemployment and that the only cure for unemployment is a shorter work-week. Talk is of a 30-hour week; but my guess is the first move will be to a 36-hour week—then a 32-hour week.

FACTORIES have constantly become more automatic for the past fifty years. The great advance, however, has come with the development of electronics. Some industries, such as the oil refining industry, have already become eighty per cent automatic; it has had no unemployment and is paying the highest wages ever. Union labor leaders cannot yet show that the automatic factory is causing unemployment.

In the long run, automation may bring a shorter work-week; but the change will be slow. The rebuilding of a manufacturing plant to be self-operating is very expensive. Thousands of consolidations must take place before such revolutionary changes will come about. There, however, will be more opportunities for new companies which can start from the ground up with the very latest automatic machinery. However, my chief purpose this week is to suggest certain industries which should definitely benefit from a shorter work-week.

BEST KNOWN is Spalding (A. G.) & Bros., one of the largest manufacturers of baseball, basketball, football, golf, tennis and skiing products. Headquarters in Chicopee, Massachusetts. Last year their stock paid 50 cents (and 5 per cent stock) and now sells at about $19.

Brunswick - Balke - Collender, largest manufacturer of bowling alleys, billiard tables and gymnasium equipment. Main office in Chicago. Common paid 25 cents (plus 5 per cent stock) last year and sells around $28.

Stanley Warner Corp., one of the best movie theater companies, interested in Cinerama. Subsidiary manufactures latex products. Offices are at 1585 Broadway, New York city. It paid $1 last year and sells around $16.

MANHATTAN SHIRT CO., one of the largest manufacturers of shirts, for both men and women, and of other forms of clothing such as pajamas, neckwear and sportswear. Head office is at 444 Madison avenue, New York. Stock paid $1.85 last year and sells around $37.

McCall Corp., one of the leading publishers of fashion magazines; also controls Redbook. It operates a large dress-pattern business and does a large amount of printing for Reader's Digest, Newsweek, U. S. News, etc. McCall should benefit from a shorter work-week for women. It paid $1.20 last year and sells at about $21.

American News Company, large distributor of magazines, newspapers and paper-covered books. It has valuable concessions at railroad, airplane and bus terminals, serving tourists. Reading will increase with the shorter work-week. Headquarters at 131 Varick street, New York city. It paid $1.50 last year and sells at about $32.

ALL COMPANIES catering to the "do-it-yourself" trade should benefit from the shorter work-week. I especially have in mind the American Machine & Foundry Company, 261 Madison avenue, New York city and the Black & Decker Manufacturing Company, of Towson, Maryland. These have fitted up many of the "tool rooms" which have been built in the basements of houses and farms. Furthermore, American Machine & Foundry makes bowling alley equipment and is becoming an important factor in automation, guided missiles and atomic-energy reactor equipment.

Another group which should benefit are companies which cater to the painting of walls of homes with rollers. My favorite corporation here is the Glidden Company of Cleveland, but there are many others.

If you want to benefit from all phases of the "do-it-yourself" movement, buy the stocks of the United Stores Corporation, having 460 stores retailing, at low prices, most of these products. I especially recommend the 2nd pf., at $10-$11, and the common around $5.

Although the stocks of those ten companies should prosper better than most other companies during a business depression, yet no stocks will then be foolproof as to price.

No More Extra Jobs

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The Civil Service Commission said today it will revoke on April 15 wartime regulations which permit federal employees to hold part-time state, territorial or municipal jobs connected with national defense. The commission said federal employees holding such jobs must give them up by Jan. 1, 1957, or—if they are hired for a certain period—at the end of that period.

Studying TV Proposals

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission is studying proposals that it permit TV stations to identify themselves with two principal communities, instead of just one as now required. The plan would authorize a station to have main studios in both communities it served. The commission yesterday invited comment May 23 on the proposal.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MARCH 23, 1956

UPSET FOR STEVENSON

Adlai Stevenson's prospects of winning the Democratic presidential nomination have been sharply downgraded by the smashing defeat he suffered in the Minnesota primary.

In one large stroke he has been converted from an easy front runner to a shaky contender who must now try to score a series of overwhelming primary victories to prove himself with Democratic leaders the country over.

Senator Kefauver's upset triumph in Minnesota dealt Stevenson a heavy blow. The size of his defeat unquestionably will sow the suspicion among party professionals in many quarters that the former Illinois governor has lost the popular appeal he had in 1952.

Putting this loss together with his smaller defeat in New Hampshire, some party men may already be convinced that Stevenson doesn't have it in 1956.

Certainly this view will soon be widely held if he fails to reverse the present primary trend. Reports have it that more than a few key professionals have had misgivings about Stevenson's vote-getting power this time. They and others seem sure to desert him at the earliest moment they believe their doubts are confirmed.

In Minnesota Kefauver demonstrated that the campaign assets he displayed in 1952 have, if anything, been magnified with passing time. His homely, folksy techniques on the hustings have obviously struck a responsive chord with many people.

Possibly Minnesota farmers are more receptive to this approach than voters might be in other sectors of the nation. That remains to be seen.

Kefauver already has shown he could gain approval in New England. Soon he will have a chance to run up a score unopposed in Wisconsin, and two weeks after that in New Jersey, a state long thought to be strongly for Stevenson.

The prospect has arisen, too, that after his stunning Minnesota win his followers may try to stage a potent write-in campaign for him in Stevenson's own state of Illinois, where the onetime governor is now unopposed.

Any further major blows to Stevenson probably will finish him. But most observers still doubt that Kefauver will inherit his support among the professionals. The general feeling is that a Stevenson collapse means the ascendancy of a dark horse candidate of moderate leanings and reasonably broad acceptability to both the northern and southern wings of the Democratic party.

A fellow we know named Jones maintains that the Joneses people try to keep up with must be another branch of the family!

THAT SETTLES THAT

From now until the Republican convention in August there ought to be no further discussion of Vice President Nixon's chances of making the GOP ticket again. President Eisenhower has gone as far as he can in approving Nixon, short of formally picking him.

Probably the doubts about Nixon's future never had any really serious foundation. But Mr. Eisenhower managed to convey a certain hesitancy about the issue in his desire to observe carefully the rule which decrees the second-place choice shall be deferred until the presidential nominee is named.

Since Nixon has indeed been a controversial figure since his hard-punching campaigns against the Democrats, it was easy for speculation to develop that the President was making ready to dump him.

Actually, examination of his comments, plus those of many other prominent GOP leaders, gave no grounds for such conclusion.

All in all, it was quite a day for Nixon, who also could read that some 22,000 New Hampshire voters had written his name on

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE RIGHT TO ABSTAIN

It comes up every time there is an election. Somebody hammers the drums and the tambourines to get out the vote. That used to be the job of the politicians, to ring door-bells, to provide transportation and in my childhood, even to pay $2 or $3 per vote. Today, the get-out-the-vote business is a public enterprise, engaged in by worthy citizens who proclaim themselves non-partisan. The idea is to make the citizen who abstains from voting ashamed of himself, even though his conscience might bother him if he voted because he felt he could not choose between two demagogues, or two men of low moral character, or two crooks, or two bums.

Of course, one can be fashionable, go into the voting booth, stay a few seconds, come out again after having made a noise like voting. Under such circumstances, one can vote or not vote and yet avoid having an accusing person on television ask, "What kind of an American are you?"

In my State, it often happens that it is impossible for a conscientious American to make a choice. For instance, we may in 1956 have as candidates for the United States Senate, Herbert Lehman on the Democratic ticket and Jacob Javits on the Republican ticket. I could not vote for either. It would worry me to know that I cast a vote to help perpetrate either of these men. So if they run, I shall not vote for a United States Senator.

It has been said that I am wrong, that good citizenship requires that I should choose between the lesser of two evils. That to me is a sin. If they are both evil, we should avoid them both. What happens here in New York must happen in other parts of the country; that is, the politicians of either party select candidates for public office who, to certain voters, are unsuitable and therefore the voter has no choice. Just as no voter may be physically coerced to vote for anyone, so he ought not to be mentally coerced by any type of social pressure to vote for a person just because he is constantly told on radio and television that to abstain from voting is bad citizenship. Under certain circumstances, abstention may be the best kind of citizenship. It is a moral resistance to bad politics.

There was a time when it was possible to vote for Norman Thomas as what was called a protest vote. The idea was that as Thomas could not possibly be elected but was a decent, reputable person, a vote cast for him would not elect him but would annoy the politicians. How much such voting annoyed the politicians, I do not know. I should imagine that it amounted to very little. However, Norman Thomas no longer runs for public office and therefore he is no longer a sanctuary for those whose consciences bother them about unsuitable candidates. I once voted for Roger Babson for President because he wore whiskers which I found a better reason than voting for either Franklin D. Roosevelt or Wendell Willkie.

This year, there is an element of danger in abstention from voting for the Republicans, but this is not so much a matter of conscience as that many will believe that as Eisenhower cannot be defeated, they might as well play golf on Election Day. I fear we pay too much attention to the Presidency and not enough to Congress which, in our political system, is more important. About one-third of the Senate and the whole of the House of Representatives will be elected in 1956 and the citizens really ought to give Congress a great deal of thought.

I find such Senators among Republicans as well as Democrats and from my standpoint what is wrong with them is that they sacrifice the best interests of the United States for what must be a temporary popularity. They are fashion-conscious Senators, who are now for Rock and Roll as they were for Swing and before that Jazz. To use a figure of speech, they switch and change for a headline in the newspapers. Such men exist in the public life of a free, competitive society at all times, but usually the people wise up to them and defeat them. 1956 is a good year for that. ALLERGIC REACTIONS TO ANTIBIOTICS

Last week we discussed the wonder drugs, the antibiotics, sulfas, hormones and others that have come to the fore in very recent years. I have just come across an article by Dr. Francis C. Lowell, Boston University, in which we are told that exposure to antibiotics (penicillin, terramycin, etc.) is becoming increasingly common with the widespread use of drugs in nose drops, sprays, eyedrops, troches, chewing gum, and ointments. Polymyolitis vaccine, currently available, contains penicillin. Sulfonamides and antibiotics are used in animal husbandry and may easily reach the table in various dairy products.

Perhaps the greatest number of allergic reactions is caused by penicillin for two reasons: first, it is more widely used than any other and, second, it has been reported on more often than some of the newer drugs. In any event, the number of people reacting to penicillin varies from one to ten in every hundred. Allergic reaction to a drug usually takes place about five days or more after contact and is more likely to take place after a large dose than after a small one and following administration by hypodermic needle than by administration by mouth.

About five per cent of patients receiving sulfonamides have reactions, usually fever and skin rashes. The application of sulfas directly to the area induces a high degree of allergy and is not advisable. Gantrisin seems to produce the fewest reactions but is, on the other hand, the newest drug.

The relatively high number of cases, about ten per cent, of reactions to streptomycin may be due to prolonged use of this drug in the treatment of tuberculosis. Again skin rash and fever are the symptoms of this allergy.

It is impossible to predict whether a patient with a previous allergic reaction will react a second time if the same substance is readministered. However, the safest thing is to expect a reaction which may be greater than the first one to the point where hives, collections of fluid, shortness of breath with asthma, and even collapse of the walls of the blood vessels may occur, sometimes causing death.

The treatment of these allergic conditions requires discontinuance of the drug and its elimination from the body by the administration of fluids and this is usually sufficient. However, acute and severe reactions require immediate measures and epinephrine, 1:1,000 in an under the skin dose of 0.5 cc. is the most effective single measure and will maintain both the blood pressure and an adequate airway to breathe through. Another point to remember is that as it is usually the first injection in a course of treatment that is most likely to cause an acute reaction, injection should be into an extremity rather than the buttocks so that absorption of the drug can be delayed.

Not the Leader to Follow

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington —(NEA)— Political effects of the manifesto by a hundred Southern senators and congressmen, calling for "reversal by legal means" of the Supreme Court's public school desegregation decision, are not taken too seriously in Washington.

Close study of the manifesto has shown that it contains not even a veiled threat of defiance of the Supreme Court. It outlines no program of political action to nullify the court's decision. It does not mention "states' rights" nor "interposition."

Calmer spirits among the signers toned down the more violent language contained in an original draft.

It was prepared by a small committee of Southern senators, headed by Strom Thurmond (D-SC) Dixiecrat presidential candidate in '48.

What emerged, therefore, is now taken as a political campaign document issued largely for home consumption in the South. Its effect will be largely on coming state primaries.

AS A MATTER of practical politics, it is recognized all over the country that no Southern candidate for office can hope to win nomination or election if he publicly favors even gradual integration.

This is being cited as an explanation of why such liberals as Sen. Lister Hill (Ala) and Reps. Brooks Hays (Ark) and Wright Patman (Tex) signed the manifesto.

Northern Democratic political leaders recognize that if such men were defeated they would be replaced by extreme reactionaries on the integration and almost every other issue.

This is one reason which such liberal senators as Lehman (NY) and Douglas (Ill)—to whom the colored vote is important—have been so restrained in their comments on the manifesto. They deplore the fact that the Southerners felt they had to issue this statement. But now that it is out, they are not inclined to regard it as too disruptive a political factor.

A GRAND ROW over the civil rights issue at the Chicago Democratic national convention in August is still not ruled out. But since this convention comes only 12 weeks before the November election, it does not give much time for organizing a third party.

There is a general feeling among political leaders in Washington that the Dixiecrats were not too happy over the results of their 1948 campaign. They are not anxious to go through another third party ordeal.

This is given as one reason why Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson dared to issue his statement that the Supreme Court was right and the Southern manifesto wrong on the issue of racial segregation in public schools.

This may be a direct challenge to the Southerners to put up a presidential candidate of their own, in opposition to Stevenson at the Chicago convention.

NORTHERN AND WESTERN state delegations greatly outnumber the South for a simple majority convention vote, however. And responsible spokesmen for the Democratic party organization say it is inconceivable that their 1956 convention will reject past platform declarations on civil rights.

Northern Democratic leaders like to boast that the greatest progress toward eliminating segregation has been made during their past administrations.

They find it ironic that it is their party which must now face a split over this issue.

President Eisenhower's press conference appeal for patience is being taken as a help to both parties and both sides in avoiding extreme emotionalism over what might otherwise become a highly explosive issue.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In the first trial of Alger Hiss, Tom Murphy, the United States attorney, felt within 48 hours that he could not win and therefore was fighting only to stand off acquittal. That is to say, Murphy heard that one juror had expressed a conviction that Hiss either was not guilty or, if guilty, should not be punished. Thus, if Murphy's information was correct, the best the government could get was a tie and another crack at Hiss in a new trial.

Murphy later became police commissioner of the city of New York and a very bad one, at that, as commissioners go. But, finally, he landed the job on which his heart had been set for a long time, when Truman belatedly and grudgingly appointed him judge of the Southern District of New York with life tenure. The pay is $22,500 a year.

As soon as Murphy received word of this juror's alleged expression of conviction he got in touch with the FBI and verified his informant's report. He then asked Judge Sam Kaufman, presiding for a conference, to which Lloyd Paul Stryker, for the defense, was bidden, of course. Murphy stated the facts and asked Kaufman to disqualify the juror and call on the 13th juror to sit in his place. Stryker objected. He said that if any action were taken it must be a mistrial, at the government's motion. Murphy thought fast. This would give the public an impression that he had a weak case. Some newspapers were doing a flagrant job of slanting that way in the daily coverage. It was so bad in one metropolitan paper, whose stuff was being sold out of town, that Murphy made a public protest. Murphy was a fighter so he refused to ask for a mistrial. And, anyway, he argued to Kaufman, the only reason for the presence of a bull-pen juror in the box was just such an emergency.

There was a scandal after the jury finally disagreed and Hiss got a break during which the Communists and the political managers of the defense scurried around trying to put the indictment through.

Result in Minnesota Is Held As Weakness of Primaries

Washington, March 23—Why did so many people stay away from the polls in Minnesota this week? Do the American voters regard primaries as of little importance?

More Republicans than Democrats failed to vote, and this may have been due to the existence of a contest inside the Democratic party, whereas there was no such contest inside the Republican party. But it still doesn't explain the absence of more than one-third of the Democratic vote cast for United States senator in the final election of 1954, when Sen. Humphrey won.

SOME IDEA of the large number of voters of both parties who ignored the Presidential primary can be gotten by comparing the approximately 196,000 votes cast by Republicans this week as against 763,211 for Eisenhower in the final election of 1952 and the 785,649 votes obtained by Sen. Thye, Republican, when he ran ahead of Mr. Eisenhower to win in that same election. This means that in this year's presidential primary in Minnesota approximately 75 per cent of the Republicans who voted in 1952 didn't show up at the polls.

In the Democratic party primary, where the organization was hard at work and a bitter contest between Stevenson and Kefauver was in progress, the proportion of Democrats voting was higher than among the Republicans. But the total of about 420,000 for both Democratic candidates was far below the 642,193 which Sen. Humphrey got in 1954 and also far below the 608,458 which Stevenson himself pitted against Eisenhower in 1952.

There was something unusual, too, in the 1952 Presidential primary in Minnesota. Harold Stassen won the Republican primary with 129,076 votes, but there were 108,692 Republicans who wrote in the name of Mr. Eisenhower, which was not on the printed ballot. On the Democratic side, Sen. Humphrey won with 102,527 votes as a "favorite son," with Kefauver getting 20,181 "write-in" votes. But the total Republican vote that year of 294,895 and the Democratic total of 131,603 didn't begin to reflect the strength of either party in the subsequent Presidential election in November.

THE PLAIN inference is that the people do not regard primaries as important instruments of popular expression. Perhaps it's because every one knows that the delegates chosen need not follow the vote cast and can change as their political fancy might dictate. The national convention still is dominated by delegations which are not chosen in state primaries. This is one of the weaknesses of the presidential-preference primary system. It is not uniform in its application and isn't binding on the national convention which does the nominating.

There is a publicity value to primaries, and the rival candidates are alert to take advantage of it. The experienced political manager tries to keep his candidate out of primaries unless certain of victory. Adlai Stevenson steered clear of all primaries in 1952 and would have done the same thing this time but was goaded into campaigning. He isn't the kind of demagogue that can win primary contests, and he would have been better advised to keep out of those battles altogether, as he originally wanted to do.

MINNESOTA is basically a Democratic state. It used to be one of the sure Republican states. But it went Democratic in the five Presidential elections beginning in 1932. In fact, when Truman carried it in 1948, he picked 62,966 votes, which was better than the 608,458 that Stevenson got in 1952 and higher than the 589,864 that Franklin Roosevelt polled in 1944 to carry the state. It was also better than Roosevelt's 1940 vote of 644,196 and almost as high as the peak Democratic vote of 698,811 which Roosevelt attained in 1936.

But, despite all these figures there are well-informed persons in the newspaper field in Minnesota who say that Eisenhower has a good chance of carrying the state in November, though it will be close.

Looked at solely from the standpoint of total votes cast the big question is: Why did only 615,000 voters of both parties participate in the 1956 primary and only 642,006 in the Senatorial primary in 1954, while 1,138,952 voted for Senator in 1954? When a Democrat won in an "off-year" election and 1,387,419 voted for Senator in 1952, when a Republican won? The apathy of the voters about primary contests extends throughout the country except in the one-party South. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Much has been written about the Mary Powell steamer, but I still would like to see a list of her famous guests and dates and events of their trips. As most folks know, before the famous Mary Powell, there was the Thomas Powell, owned and commanded by Captain A. L. Anderson. The Anderson family owned the two famous Powell steamers which made history on the Hudson river. Going back to the year 1860, the Prince of Wales, later King Edward of England, visited this country. The Duke of Newcastle and a number of members of English royalty accompanied the Prince of Wales. First they were guests of New York city, and the officials then chartered the steamer, Thomas Powell, owned by Captain A. L. Anderson, of Fairview in Port Ewen, to take the prince and party to West Point on the 15th of October. Captain Anderson invited his wife, who was a granddaughter of Abram Hasbrouck, her father, Dr. Eltinge, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Silkman of Scranton, Pa., as his guests. No doubt these folks were known in Port Ewen, as I understand Dr. Eltinge practiced there. In the party also was Joseph Howard Jr., New York newspaper reporter, and Theodore R. Davis, to make sketches, as camera snap shots had not been invented. The Prince wore an ordinary business suit and was a very quiet person. As the steamer left the dock, Captain Anderson took the Prince of Wales and the Duke into the pilot house to view our famous Hudson river. When West Point was reached they were met by the Commandant of West Point and his staff together. Twenty-one guns were fired in salute by the non. The cadets gave a fine drill and parade, and all points of interest were visited that lovely day in October. When the Prince wanted to know anything he would speak very quietly to the duke, and he would ask the questions and receive the replies. The Thomas Powell was decked out gayly with flags, and was saluted by all the other boats on the river. This took place some 95 years ago.

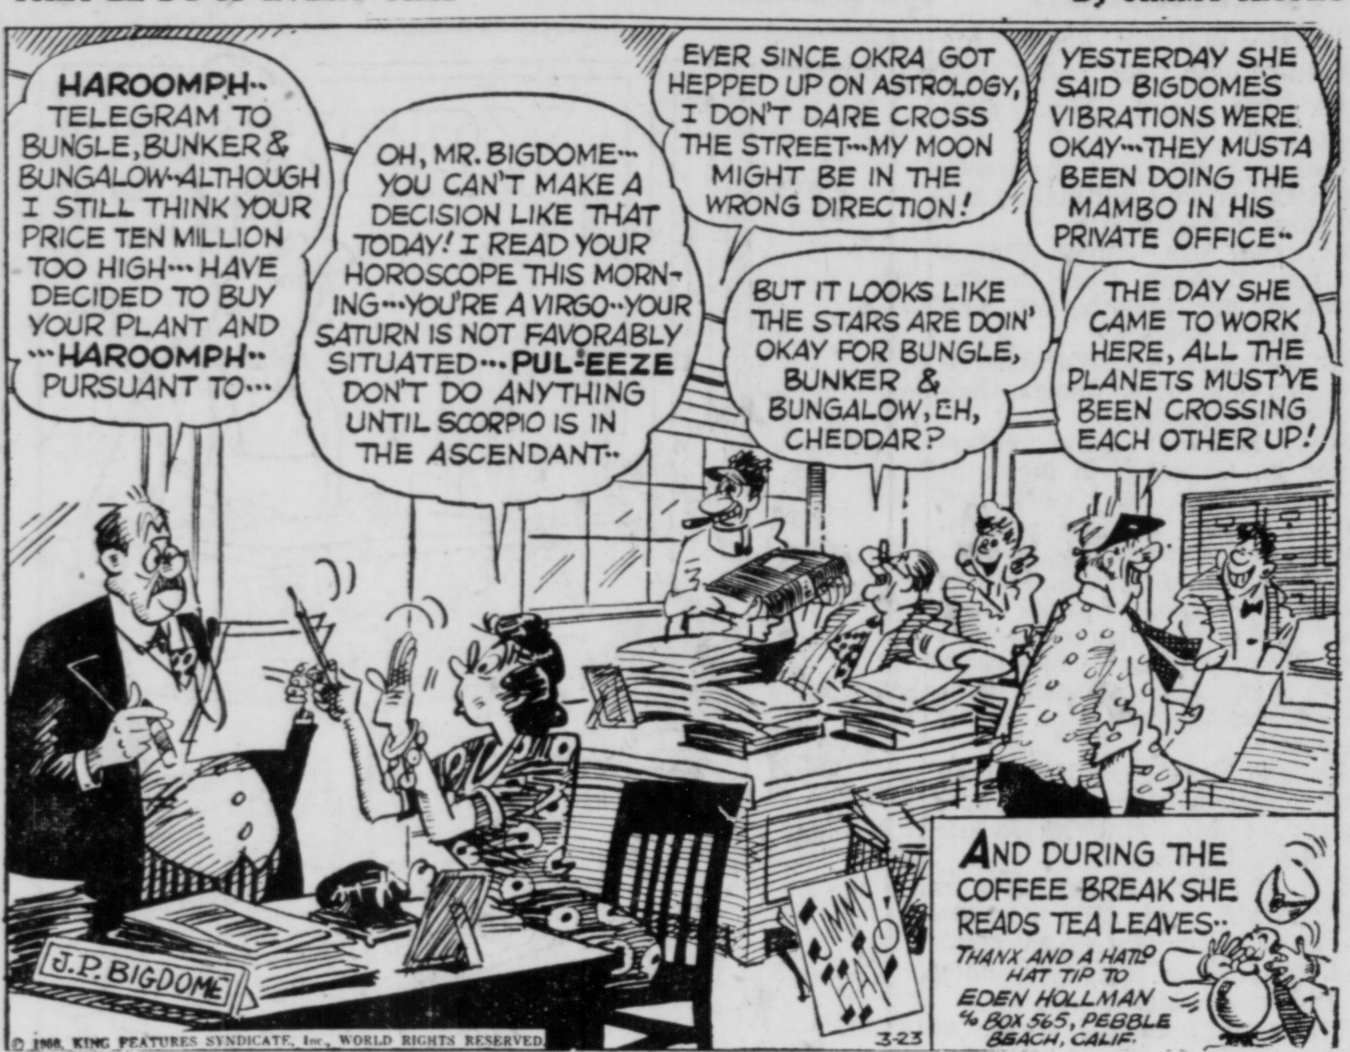

Going back to January 17, 1907 the Kingston Weekly Freeman had much to say about floods, quoting in part: "The history of the destruction wrought by floods in New York state would fill volumes." That 50 years ago, and just as true today. Their solution at the time seemed to be: "Experts in water storage say that the building of substantial masonry dams and the establishment of a complete system of reservoirs will put an end to the constantly recurring trouble." "Floods" are particularly frequent in this part of the state because of the topography of the region where most of the big streams rise. Snow that has accumulated during the winter melts rapidly in the early spring, and two or three months supply of water rushes into the lakes and rivers all at once. The results are disastrous to life and property. And when a flood subsides the ground that has been covered with water becomes a breeding ground for disease." So it seems history is still repeating itself with no solution to fight the spring freshet of rain which washes the ice and snow off the Catskills through the Hudson valley and its little towns nearby.

Safety Bid Is Rule Breaker

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When you have the choice between a major suit and a minor suit, you usually choose the major. Today's hand shows an exception to the rule.

North knew that he couldn't afford to let West play the hand at four spades. There was far too much danger that West would make this vulnerable game contract, as indeed he would. A sacrifice bid in hearts or diamonds was indicated.

Which suit should North choose? At the level of five, there isn't much difference between a major and a minor. Safety should be your chief consideration. North knew that the partnership had nine or ten diamonds, but that they might have only eight hearts. Hence diamonds would seem safer.

At five diamonds, South had a pleasant surprise. He ruffed the opening spade lead in dummy, drew trumps, cashed the top hearts, and ruffed a heart. Now he could get back to dummy with a spade ruff to cash the

Think It Through

THE TURNING OF THE TIDES

Last Election Day, all over the country, the voters in State and local elections turned down bond issues on all kinds of projects. They voted against scores of proposals to increase spending and taxes.

You can see full tide, and tide at ebb. Who notices when the tide turns?

Mr. Hutton

Something small happens, but it may be big in results. The son of Count Tolstoy once said: "I smell revolution." Asked why, he replied: "All the servants are sullen." He was right about both the servants and the revolution.

Once we had prohibition, we even put it in the Constitution. It looked as solid as the Rocky Mountains. In a few years, it was doomed. Yet no one could tell when or where its doom began. What had looked like a steel ball turned out to be an empty eggshell — when the tide turned.

The politicians, who voted dry and drank wet, could not see a single straw in the wind. But they were there.

These recent elections were on small matters compared to others that cost billions. Nothing like them in my memory. For this was not when times were bad. It was at a peak of prosperity. Yet these elections showed that Joe Doaks is getting "fed up." When voters get "fed up," arguments mean little.

You, boys, in Washington, tossing billions all over the globe, watch your step!

Saugerties, March 23—"Underwater Scenes," the Cub Scouting theme of the month was observed at the regular pack meeting of Cub Pack 32, Atonement Lutheran Church Tuesday night at the Lutheran church meeting rooms.

In keeping with the theme the refreshments consisted of various types of seafood.

The set for the program was decorated with many gaily colored fish in an odd assortment of shapes and sizes, a sunken Spanish galleon, seaweed, sand and rocks. To create the illusion of water a light blue colored curtain was suspended in front of the scenery. Cubs of Den 1 were costumed as octopus and colored fish which moved across the setting. Part of the entertainment was a deep sea treasure hunt with frogmen and divers emerging from their submarine. This portrayal was by members of Den 2. Scenes from the motion picture 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea were depicted and the burial of one of Captain Nimo's crew in the sands of the ocean floor was enacted by the Cubs of Den 3.

Court Test Planned For Seizure Law

Baltimore, March 23 (AP)—An April 4 court test is planned for the new state public utilities seizure law which put Baltimore's transit system back into gear after a 39-day strike.

The Baltimore Transit Co. has asked federal court here to upset the law, which it contends is unconstitutional. The company also said it is being denied its rights under the Taft-Hartley act.

Union officials, whose men have been working under state seizure since March 9, said if the law is thrown out the strike could start all over again. "The only reason we went back to work was to comply with the law," Frank P. Baumer, president of the AFL-CIO local explained.

The company's action came after Gov. McKeldin invoked the arbitration section of the law, giving him the power to order compulsory arbitration after normal negotiation efforts broke down.

The union complied with the order to name an arbiter, but the company refused, and instead started legal proceedings. It seeks an injunction to block arbitration and invalidate the seizure law.

Spending Estimate

Ithaca, N. Y., March 24 (AP)—A Cornell University professor today reported that the federal government was spending about $425 a year for every person in the United States. M. Slade Kendrick told an audience on the final day of Farm and Home Week that the government spent more than 17 per cent of the national product, which is a measure of the value of all goods and services the nation produces. Kendrick, relating a study of federal spending he undertook for the National Bureau of Economic Research, said he based his figures on the value of the dollar in 1926.

Indians Smoke Peace Pipe Over Seaway

Montreal, March 23 (AP)—The Caughnawaga Indian tribe and Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway Authority have smoked the peace pipe.

President Lionel Chevrier of the Seaway Authority announced in the presence of the Indians' representatives yesterday that agreement in principle had been reached on expropriation of Indian lands needed for the construction.

Checks for compensation were given to several Indians. The largest payment, $70,000, went to Louis Daibo, 69, who remained in his home last month as the excavation machinery approached and dynamite blasts rocked the area.

Chevrier announced also the award of a $10,636,000 contract to Marine Industries Ltd. of Montreal to provide a link with Montreal Harbor to the seaway. He called this the most significant seaway contract to date.

The seaway chief announced the completion — 8½ months ahead of schedule — of a 4,200-foot section of the overland canal excavation near the Caughnawaga reserve and the St. Regis river.

He said the Montreal harbor contract brought to 75 million dollars the value of contracts granted thus far. About half of those required, 36, now have been signed for construction, dredging and excavation.

In addition to its 11,000 lakes, Minnesota has 30,000 miles of fishing streams.

Tuna Traced Over 2,370 Miles in Migration Study

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The government knows about a tuna fish which traveled 2,370 miles across the Pacific in 471 days, growing from 15 pounds to 40 in that time.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said today the Albacore tuna was tagged 1,300 miles north of Hawaii on Oct. 5, 1954. It was recaptured near Japan.

RECALLING that about three years ago another Albacore tagged off California was taken near Japan, the service said the incidents may provide evidence that northern Pacific Albacore tuna may belong to a population which migrates between America and Japan. But the service cautioned that the evidence is not conclusive because only two have been tagged and traced.

It reported another recent recapture of a Skipjack tuna only 30 miles from where it had been tagged close to the Hawaiian shore 253 days earlier. Weighing seven pounds when tagged, the fish had doubled in weight.

THE TUNA migration is aimed at finding out as much as possible about the life history of the fish so as to be able to predict abundance, probable best fishing seasons and locations and to help the industry develop new high seas fisheries.

The Albacore has the whitest meat of all tunas. Fishing for it is a valuable segment of the tuna industry. However, its variations in time and place of appearance along the North American coast present the fishermen with more than the usual number of problems.

There are several thousand tagged Albacore in the Pacific now and service scientists hope that tuna migrations will be clearly defined in the future.

Four Are Burned In School Lab Mishap

Albany, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—A jar of white phosphorus exploded after being exposed to the air in a laboratory at Albany State Teachers College yesterday, causing burns to four persons.

The chairman of the Chemistry Department, an assistant and two students were hospitalized.

Dr. George Murphy, 37, was believed the most seriously burned. The others were Jack Flagler, 19, of Albany; Robert Levy, 25, of Baldwinsville; and John Carr, 25, of Baldwinsville. Flagler is a laboratory assistant.

All were reported in satisfactory condition.

Dr. Evan Collins, college president, said the accident occurred while the phosphorus was being removed from a storage tank. He said students rushed for fire extinguishers when it became exposed but it exploded.

It was reported there was little damage to the laboratory.

Still Favors Adlai

Harrisburg, Pa., March 23 (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader says he still favors Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination despite his defeat at the hands of Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in the Minnesota presidential preference primary. Leader told his news conference yesterday that Stevenson "is still the strongest possible candidate the Democrats can put forward." He said that the Minnesota vote "goes to show what a wealth of talent the Democratic party has."

The president of a well-known Chicago bank prided himself on his conservatism, but he was equally broad-minded, a fact that was evidenced by his

Finally the banker became curious and asked the reason.

Valet—Well it's this way, sir. According to what I've heard, if the wealth of this country were divided equally, each inhabitant would receive $4,782.32.

Teamster Union Affairs Frozen By Court Order

New York, March 23 (AP)—Affairs of the New York joint council of the teamsters union have been frozen by a federal court order issued in a battle among union leaders for control of 125,000 truck drivers in the metropolitan area.

The order will remain in effect until April 3, when the council's executive board will be required to show cause in court why an injunction should not be issued.

The temporary restraining order was issued yesterday by Judge Gregory F. Noonan. It preserved the status quo and forbade the executive board from taking any step to disturb the incumbency of council president Martin T. Lacey.

Lacey obtained the order in a move to keep John J. O'Rourke from taking over the $25,000-a-year presidency of the New York Joint Council of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (IBT).

Papers in Lacey's suit said that if O'Rourke were allowed to take office the council's members would be "subject to the arbitrary and ruthless control and decision of gangsters, racketeers and others."

O'Rourke is reputedly a protégé of James R. Hoffa of Detroit, powerful vice president of the IBT, and a spearhead in a move to get control of the metropolitan area truck drivers.

A committee appointed by IBT President Dave Beck of Seattle ruled Wednesday night that O'Rourke was the victor over Lacey on the basis of challenged ballots in a recent disputed election. Most of O'Rourke's running mates also were declared victors.

Lacey charged in his suit that Hoffa "was an active and chief member of the common effort or conspiracy to rig or influence the election by fraud, deception and stratagem, as well as by intimidation and persuasion."

Red Jet Causes Stir in England Praised as Best

London, March 23 (AP)—A sleek Russian jet airliner shocked and amazed British air experts today and left them goggled-eyed with wonder.

The commercial twin-engine aircraft, credited with speeds up to 500 miles an hour, caused as big a stir as the man it brought to London—Gen. Ivan Serov, head of the Soviet Secret police.

"You may whistle," bannered the Daily Mail. "This clinches it. The Reds are way, way ahead."

"SOVIET JET beats all," said the Daily Express.

"Russia's secret plane is a world beater," headlined the News Chronicle.

The Daily Mail's writer on air affairs spoke of the "shaken silence" with which British experts watch the liner fly into London airport yesterday.

The airliner, called the TU104, is "more advanced than anything likely to be available in Britain or America for at least three years," he summed up.

The News Chronicle said the only commercial jet liner comparable in Britain is the Comet III which is still being tested. "America has nothing to offer," the News Chronicle added.

Tavern Owner Wound Figured in Slaying

New York, March 23 (AP)—A Bronx tavern owner, whose home figured in a still unsolved slaying of a bookmaker, was shot and critically wounded today while walking on the street.

The tavern owner, Michael Rizzo, 47, told police two men came up behind him, demanded his money, and then opened fire on him. One bullet ripped through Rizzo's shoulder and another whistled harmlessly through his hat.

Police said Rizzo could not give much of a description of his assailants.

Last year March 28, 44-year-old Dominick Cassano, with a police record for bookmaking, was found fatally stabbed in front of the Rizzo home at 3607 De Reimer ave., the Bronx.

Police said Cassano had been dating Rizzo's daughter, Mrs. Mary Simon, 21, who was then separated from her husband. Authorities said Rizzo discovered Cassano, stabbed five times with what was believed to have been an icepick.

At the time of the slaying police ruled out robbery as the motive, since Cassano had money and expensive jewelry on his person when found.

Rizzo operates the silver palms bar and grill at 163rd St. and Southern Blvd.

Kiwanis Hears About Transistor In Phone Lines

The mechanics of a small gadget called a transistor and its use in the network of telephone lines was the subject of a talk by Monty Paige of the New York Telephone Company's public relations department, Thursday at the noon luncheon of the Kingston Kiwanis Club.

The speaker prefaced his remarks concerning the transistor with a review of progress during the last hundred years in the field of science, pointing out the preparations of rocket projectiles to the moon and the possibility of interplanetary telephone service.

"WE ARE ON the threshold of great developments in the electronics and atomic fields," said Mr. Paige, "and the next 25 years will probably bring more progress than the past hundred years."

Coming to the subject of the transistor, the speaker, by demonstrations and word pictures, portrayed the ability of the gadget to amplify electrical waves. He explained that it was of great value in the present network of the telephone lines.

"The vacuum tube made possible many things," said Mr. Paige, "but it requires a great deal of space, gives out a certain amount of heat, and has a tendency to wear out too fast."

The speaker then compared the size of a vacuum tube to the transistor, showing that the latter accomplishes greater things in less space. By demonstration Mr. Paige showed the fact of the transistor employing the use of solids and what it can accomplish in the telephone business.

Other activities at the Kiwanis luncheon included a report on Key Club activities and the possibility of an interclub visit with Kiwanians at Monticello.

Probing Gas Deaths

Hempstead, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—Police are awaiting improvement in the condition of a 42-year old mother to establish the cause of the gas deaths yesterday of her two small children.

The mother, Mrs. Lottie Chabrowski, was found overcome by gas fumes in her Long Island home (27 Morton avenue). Dead were Frank, 2½, and Carol, 8 months old. Another child, Edward, 14, discovered the tragedy when he returned home from school. He found his mother and the infants on the kitchen floor. All four burners of a gas stove were open. Nassau county detectives said they were trying to establish whether it was murder and attempted suicide, or accidental.

He Understood $134,000 Went As Commissions

New York, March 23 (AP)—Paul S. Sottnek, president of one of the port's largest stevedoring concerns, has testified he paid $134,000 in "commissions" for stevedoring contracts with a Norwegian shipping company.

He says the payments "were not bribes" but were "commissions, as I understood them."

Sottnek, president of Jules S. Sottnek Co., was a witness yesterday before a hearing examining for the waterfront commission of New York harbor.

The hearing was to determine whether the Sottnek firm should be granted a permanent stevedore license.

American Women Lack Individuality, According to Outspoken British Artist

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Woman's Editor

American women have the uncanny ability to "wish" themselves into any mold they choose, observes Cecil Beaton, British photographer, author, artist, designer, lecturer and actor.

"It seems to me that today all American women have high cheekbones, long, graceful legs, delicate wrists and thin hands," says Beaton who has studied beauty of many nationalities in his capacity as official photographer to Britain's Royal Family. "A generation ago nobody had high cheekbones. Now everybody has them. I don't really understand how women manage to change their actual bone structure, but apparently they do. I think it all started with somebody like Marlene Dietrich."

Beaton, in New York in connection with the opening of the Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady," for which he designed the costumes, is tall, suave, faultlessly tailored and silver-haired, with a shrewd twinkle in his blue eyes. Discussing the difference between American and British beauty, he says:

"British women are much more bound by tradition than Americans. They are more swayed by parental and family influences. And they look awful on the beach. Somehow they are not made for exposure."

"American women are much more fashionable than the British, except for the most glittering occasions. For a grand ball, an English woman can get her old lame dress out of the attic, put on her jewels and look magnificent, whereas the American woman is likely to look more as if she had stepped out of a Fifth avenue shop window, wearing all the best merchandise. I think this is because American women really don't believe in the grand effect. They are better at simplicity and the casual air."

"American women look their best between 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., when they put on their little black dresses and their chic little hats and go shopping or to lunch. Then they are irresistible, with their unstressed ways."

Beaton believes that the greatest mistake made by American women in designing their appearance is a lack of individuality.

"They are too much influenced by current fashion," says he. "They go to the hairdresser and let him tell them they should have the new tangle cut and a canary rinse. Personally I would like to see more women with the courage to sock the hairdresser in the teeth, and dare to be themselves."

Two Americans whom Beaton admires wholeheartedly are Mrs. Rhineland Stewart and Marilyn Monroe — the former because she "dares to be so beautifully herself," the latter because "she is really independent of fashion, as nobody cares what she wears."

Concert Piano Humorist to Give Benefit Performance at Bard College in April

HENRY L. SCOTT

Henry L. Scott, hilarious virtuoso of the piano, will give a benefit concert for Bard College Saturday, April 14, at 8:30 p. m. in the Red Hook Central School Auditorium. Mr. Scott, a resident of Rhinebeck, is donating his performance which will be the high point of Bard's planned local fund-raising drive for the 1955-56 years.

Known throughout the country as "America's First Concert Humorist," Mr. Scott's "Concerto for Fun" has received enthusiastic praise from the critics. His antics at the piano have been seen in nationwide tours, on Broadway, television and the movies. The Bard Benefit will mark his first local appearance in over five years.

Henry L. Scott believes that music can be fun. Although he is an accomplished classical musician, his sense of humor keeps intruding and such "Scott-Symphonies" emerge as "Myopic Muddle" and "History of the Lost Chord." The glove industry was delighted when he started playing the piano while wearing mittens. LIFE Magazine says: "Music critics have gone so far as to call him 'the Will Rogers of the Piano.'"

Tickets for "A Concerto for Fun" are available from: Mrs. Fred Crane or Haen's Jewelry Store, Rhinebeck; Mrs. John Maynard or the Red Hook Drug Store, Red Hook; Mrs. David Block, Tivoli; and Mrs. Theodore Sottery, Bard College.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

SHE WANTS HER JARS BACK
A woman writes me as follows: "I do quite a lot of preserving and from time to time I give my friends and neighbors jars of vegetables or fruits which I have put up. However, they never return the jars to me. I really need these jars and can't afford to go out and buy new ones every year. Would it be proper to ask them to please return the jars when they have finished the contents?"

To make a very positive request such as, "Will you please remember to give these jars back to me, as I really need them," would be entirely proper.

A Local Custom
Dear Mrs. Post: Every time I invite friends or acquaintances to lunch, dinner or just for an evening of cards, each guest invariably arrives with a cake, candy or other edible gift for the hostess. I find this custom both distasteful and embarrassing. I am not a native of this fair city and would deeply appreciate it if you would let me know through your daily column if this, or is not, considered good manners.

Answer: While not an accepted custom, it is a gesture of kindness and you can do nothing about it except learn to appreciate it. A newcomer will make herself very unpopular by trying to change the customs of a community.

Choosing Dress of Wedding Attendant
Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be maid of honor at a friend's wedding and I would like to know if it is proper for the bride to choose the dress I am to wear, or do I pick out my own dress since I am the one paying for it. The bride-to-be and I do not have the same taste.

Answer: It is the bride's right to choose the dresses of her attendants. When a young woman accepts this honor she also accepts the wearing of whatever the bride chooses that she wear.

Should table linen be monogrammed, and if so, where should the monogram be placed? This and many other suggestions on the types of linen for various occasions are included in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-32, "Table Linens." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

The Mature Parent

We Spark Worse Tantrums
By Showing Fear of Them

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

That morning, Ronald had several reasons for exploding anger.

The previous evening, because Baby Sister had a sniffle, Mommy had wheeled the crib into her room, leaving Ronald abandoned down the hall. At breakfast, she denied chocolate milk. Finally, when it began to rain, she made Ronald stay indoors instead of continuing the game he was playing under the grape arbor.

So, when she grabbed his fire truck because he'd left it in the kitchen doorway, he defied this frustration as the straw that broke endurance.

He made two wild jumps at the shelf that held his truck; and unable to reach it, turned on Mommy with a badly-aimed kick. Then, crying with rage, he flung himself to the floor which he began to batter with clenched fists as he wished to batter Mommy.

He was still sobbing spasmodically when a neighbor telephoned. Answering, Mommy said, "You just ought to see what a state he's in! I never saw such temper in my life! He gets it from his father's Dad—not my side. Why if I'd carried on like this at his age, I'd have been spanked so hard I couldn't sit down for a week. He's just getting too much for me, that's all."

And listening, her little boy felt exactly as you and I do when some scientist tells us what terrible things atomic power can do to us. He felt fear, desolation and despair.

He felt these painful emotions so sharply he couldn't stand them. So he did exactly what we do with our terror of atomic extinction; he put them out of his head. Instead of fear of his temper, he began to feel a mounting, vengefulness toward the parent who had made him feel it—and bitter resentment at his mother's helplessness.

He'll make her pay for scaring him with her fear of his temper. The more she promotes it as terrible, the harder will be her punishment.

For each time she suggests his temper is more powerful than she is, Ronald's suppressed fear of his temper grows—and with it, his vengeful need to punish her with a big and better display of it.

Dr. Lawson G. Lowrey is a psychiatrist who knows as much about children as any specialist in this land. In a published discussion of tantrums, he asks us to ask ourselves this question:

"Do I cause my child to have temper tantrums by impressing on him what a fearful temper he has?"

Plant Locations Being Recorded in Defense System

Washington, March 23 (AP)—The census bureau said today that at request of the defense department it is asking a number of industrial plants to supply information on their precise locations.

The bureau said in response to a query that the gathering of such information from larger industries has been going on for several years and has previously covered industries in metropolitan areas.

Currently, the bureau is asking the latitude and longitude, precise to 1,000 feet or less, of all nonmetropolitan industrial plants having more than 100 employees. The information is being sought by letter.

The defense department said through a spokesman that it had started about four or five years ago on a tabulation of the location of all large industrial plants with the aim of estimating vulnerability to air attack.

The spokesman said the survey was largely completed, with data on about 20,000 plants in large industrial areas already in hand.

This left some 8,000 plants not in major industrial areas on which the department sought precise location information. Following a trial run, the department said, a full-scale survey of these plants was undertaken this year, with the census bureau acting for the Pentagon.

The spokesman said the response has been good, with information already in on about 1,500 of the 8,000 plants.

AMERICAN MENU

Build a Spring Salad Around Fresh Mushrooms

THE WELCOME GREEN of spring gives fresh mushroom salad a compelling eye-appeal. And serve this salad very cold.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

This is the giddy season because spring begins today. A New Yorker noted for his interest in food comes up with a "giddy" salad suggestion. His name is Fred Smith and his salad idea, though different, is really delicious and refreshing.

Fresh Mushroom Salad

One pound fresh mushrooms, 1 cup diced celery, inner stalks, 1 hard-cooked egg, 2 or 3 tiny sweet pickles, finely diced.

Remove stems from caps and use as an addition to any soup or sauce. Skin (do not peel) mushrooms caps and slice crosswise into thin slices. Place in deep bowl. Pour on marinade described below and cover with lid. Place in refrigerator for at least 30 minutes; longer is fine. Stir occasionally.

Marinade

One-half cup salad oil, 5 tablespoons wine vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, generous amount freshly ground black pepper, dash, tabasco.

To serve: Drain off marinade, add celery, diced pickle, egg cut into chunks. Toss together and pile into center of glass salad bowl lined with chichory or lettuce hearts. Add more of the marinade if necessary. Garnish with paper-thin circles of green pepper and pimento strips.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Pan-broiled chopped sirloin patties, whipped potatoes, buttered new carrots with parsley, enriched bread, butter or margarine, fresh mushroom salad, ready-mix angel food cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Easter's Silken Touch

The slim and beautiful black dress for Easter Sunday is done by Roxane of Samuel Winston in black silk linen. This sleeveless sheath is beltless; yoke is in sheer black chiffon. Pink flower petal hat is by Lilly Dache.

Pure silk takes two very different fashion forms for Easter Sunday. Nub-faced pure silk in pale honey tone (left) is used for suit with semi-fitted jacket by Mollie Parnis. Model wears it with a ranch mink stole by Leo Ritter. Fresh white coin dots are scattered over the surface of a dress in moonstone blue pure silk shantung (right). This is from Harvey Beeson. Long bodice forms molded line above easy skirt with pleated side panels. There's a touch of white organdy at the neckline.

Briefly Told

Dannemora, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—About 480 pupils filed from the Dannemora High School in less than a minute yesterday when fire was discovered in the old grammar school section of the building. No one was hurt.

Firemen estimated that $500 damage was caused when flames swept through partitions of the old section. They apparently started in the walls, firemen said, but the cause was not determined.

Principal John Glasgow said the school in the northeastern New York community would be closed for repairs until April 2. He said two first-grade pupils discovered the fire.

Albany, N. Y., March 23 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today signed a bill authorizing Geneva to establish a city housing authority. The five-member agency will have the job of rehabilitating sub-standard areas and providing low-rental housing in the city.

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Two more service areas will be opened on the state Thruway next week, the Thruway Authority said today. The areas are at Malden in Ulster county and Clarence in Erie county, both along the Buffalo-bound lane.

Chest X-ray Clinic Canceled Saturday

There will be no chest X-ray clinic at Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital Saturday morning, March 31, Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Commissioner of Health of Ulster County, announced today.

Chest X-ray clinics are held regularly at Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital Monday and Saturday mornings, from 9 to 10:30 a. m., and Wednesday evenings from 5 to 6:30 p. m.

Rotary President Will Be Saluted Here Saturday

A project underway by the 256th District of Rotary International will serve to bring the Kingston Rotary Club to the attention of the full International convention to be held in Philadelphia in June.

The number of the district and the numerals in the year coincide. District 256 in 1956, sends a "Salute of Signatures" to A. Z. Baker, international president of Rotary. Each club in the district is sending in signatures to be bound in a book, which will serve as a collective gift card in the presentation of a handsome silver service, fashioned at Port Jervis, N. Y.

The unique gift and signatures are expected to win the notice of the Rotary world. The Kingston club, as the oldest club in the district, has served to gather the names.

One of the features of the 40th anniversary dinner-meeting of the Kingston Rotary Club, will be the group signing of this tribute.

This activity will serve to add to the invitation to A. Z. Baker to come to Kingston, to visit the burial place of Dr. Arthur Frederick Sheldon, who provided the dynamic appeal for service, which provided the central reason for the lively growth of Rotary throughout the world.

The Kingston Rotary Club on Saturday, March 24, is combining a ladies' night, a 40th anniversary celebration and a testimonial to Arthur G. Carr, the only living charter member. This unusual dinner-meeting is set for 7 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

16 Possible Starters

Weather Decides Field In Rich Florida Derby

Miami, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Horsemen are waiting for the weather to determine how many 3-year-olds will start in the $100,000 added mile and a furlong Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park tomorrow.

At least a dozen and perhaps as many as 16 will go if it comes up fair and a fast track. Rain, such as plagued this feature for its past four runnings, could cut the field in half.

D. & H. STABLE'S Florida-born Needles, winner of the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah last month, was the standout favorite at 8 to 5.

Liked for runner-up honors was T. A. Grissom's Reaping Right, Louisiana Derby winner; Calumet Farm's entry of Fabius and Liberty Sun; Winding Way Farm's Golf Ace, second to Needles in the Flamingo; Maine Chance Farm's Busher's Idol and Gun Shot; and the Rex C. Ellsworth entry of Terran, Santa Anita Derby winner, and Like Magic, a full brother of Swaps.

Needles gets in with 117 pounds by virtue of having been foaled in Florida. The rule, adopted years ago by the state racing commission to encourage thoroughbred breeding in this state, allows Florida-breds a five-pound concession in open competition.

NEEDLES CARRIED the same weight in the Flamingo and blazed from behind to win going away. Horsemen agreed his five-pound allowance didn't matter that day.

If all 16 go, the derby will gross $148,400 and the winning owner will net $98,200.

Post will be 5:17 p. m. (EST) and broadcast from 5:15 to 5:30 p. m. by CBS.

Humez 8-5 Pick Over Tiger Jones

New York, March 23 (AP)—France's Charley Humez, European middleweight king, makes his pro debut in the U. S. tonight as an 8-5 favorite over "Spoiler" Ralph (Tiger) Jones in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The ring-worn, 28-year old ex-coal miner, has been made the choice on his unbeaten streak of 17, his European reputation and his knockouts of countryman Pierre Langlois, a long-time campaigner in America, and Germany's Hans Stretz.

On the basis of the aggressive, wide-in styles of both the fight figures to be a slugfest all the way. The bout will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, radio, 10 p. m., EST).

The Frenchman has a cauliflowered left ear, a bent nose, scars over both eyes and two gold teeth as evidence of his willingness to mix it up. The 28-year old Tiger, from Yonkers, N. Y., is an old favorite of TV fans because of his enthusiastic swinging.

Humez, long reluctant to leave Europe, finally decided to invade the U. S. when he realized that was the only way he could get a shot at the world 160-pound title.

He is ranked right behind champion Sugar Ray Robinson and Carl (Bobo) Olson, the ex-champ. Jones is the No. 8 contender.

San Francisco, Iowa Reach NCAA Finals

SMU, Temple Ousted From Play

Evanston, Ill., March 23 (AP)—The San Francisco Dons seldom have been extended completely in rolling up their amazing 54-game winning streak, but Iowa tonight may force them to pull out all stops in order to gain a second straight NCAA basketball crown.

The dashing Dons worked so smoothly in chopping down Southern Methodist last night, 86-68, that they were almost unimpressive.

Possibly they left a feeling among the 10,500 fans at Northwestern's McGraw hall that they were ripe for plucking by fiery Iowa, which knocked off Temple 83-76.

A BIG QUESTION, of course, is that concerning the Hawkeyes' all-big ten center, 6-7 Bill Logan, who will be up against two-time All-America Bill Russell.

Logan against Temple rammed in 36 points, high for his three-year varsity career. The 6-10 Russell hit for 17 points. He collected 23 rebounds to Logan's 8.

Rebounding likely will determine the winner: Against Temple, the Hawkeyes totalled 51 rebounds to the Owls' 47 with Iowa's 6-3 Carl Cain getting 15 and 6-6 Bill Schoof 18.

SAN FRANCISCO cleared the boards for 49 to the Mustangs' 39, with 6-7 Mike Farmer backing up teammate Russell with 10.

Farmer topped the Dons in scoring with 26 points as San Francisco hit 463 from the field. "That Farmer blew us right out of the tournament," said SMU Coach Doc Hayes. "We deliberately laid off him because reports to our scouting reports he couldn't hit from the outside. Then he murdered us. I certainly would have to go for San Francisco to beat Iowa."

"WE'LL HAVE to be much sharper if we hope to beat San Francisco," said Bucky O'Connor, Iowa coach.

Coach Phil Woolpert of the Dons said "we'll have to do much better than we showed against SMU to win."

Temple will meet SMU for third place in tonight's opener at 8 p. m., EST.

Play Starts Tomorrow Two Saugerties Teams Enter Dartball Tournament

Saugerties, March 23—League leading Ruby and second place West Camp have elected to represent the Saugerties Dartball League at the Mid-Hudson Dartball Tournament at Poughkeepsie Saturday. The tournament will get underway at 7:30 p. m. in the IBM Country Club.

Although all teams in the Saugerties league were eligible to enter the tournament only Ruby and West Camp voted to participate. Both teams were winners of trophies at the Newburgh League tournaments last spring.

THE GAMES are played on a baseball dartboard similar to the ones used in local league games and will be played for seven innings each game. The formula for deciding the positions of the team standings will be based on a point system. One point will be awarded for each hit and two points for each run.

According to tournament officials eight trophies will be awarded, four of which are designated for out of area entries. Trophies will be awarded for high single game in each division as well as those teams placing in the first three.

WEST CAMP players participating will include Fred Brockway, Al Cawein, Red Drescher, Rodney Lasher, Robert Lewis, Herb Pysher, Frank Sinnott, Joe Sinnott, Leonard Sinnott and Frank Sloboda.

Trabassos Sets Scoring Record in Beating Savoia, 122-67

Bridge City Five Eclipses 110 Mark Set by Monticello Flemming Leads Stars To 95-65 Triumph

Trabassos Titans of Poughkeepsie set a new scoring record for the Kingston Basketball Tournament as it swamped Savoia Rest of Hudson, 122-67, last night at the municipal auditorium.

In the first game of the twin bill, the Kingston Stars trimmed Vozdiks Sports Shop of Saugerties, 95-65.

Trabassos set the standard with a tremendous 69-point second half. The game was never in doubt after Hudson had fallen behind in the first quarter, 34-13.

WITH FIVE players hitting double figures, the Bridge City team erased the old mark of 110 points set by the Monticello Vets last year. Three other TRABASSOS SETS —

BUDDY HERRMANN exploded for 30 points to lead the slaughter. Dick Oakley hit 23, Bob Masten 20, Charlie Boggs 15 and tall Phil Spencer 12.

Gunner Villinskis tabbed 19 for the losers and Jack Burns 17. Tom Flemming paced the Stars to victory in a battle of Kingston and Saugerties High varsity players. The Maroon captain threw in 28 points, Bob Smith 21, Tony Grimaldi 19 and Richie Strong 19.

Bob Hansen topped Vozdiks with 15 points. Joe Martin tallied 14, Andy Talmadge 12 and Bill Hanna 10.

THE LOCAL cagers led through every period. They held quarterly margins of 21-15, 45-34 and 68-46.

The winners face each other April second in the quarter finals at 7:30.

The next tourney action is Tuesday when Slicker's Delivery faces the Pine Plains Bombers in the 8:45 headliner and Ketterston's meets Backs Cedars in the 7:30 opener.

Title Game Saturday

Dayton, Louisville Gain Finals in Garden Tourney

New York, March 23 (AP)—Mid-nights finally tolled for St. Francis' hustling cinderella team in the national invitation basketball tournament and now it's top-seeded Louisville in the championship final tomorrow afternoon.

Dayton's flyers, still looking for a title in their fourth trip to the final round in five tries, proved much too big and experienced for the Brooklyn Terriers 89-58 in the semifinals last night. St. Francis had upset 4th-seeded Niagara in the quarterfinals.

LOUISVILLE, LIKE Dayton, looked its best in whacking third-seeded St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 89-79 in the other half of the semifinal doubleheader that drew 16,125 to Madison Square Garden.

The title game, to be televised nationally (CBS-3 p. m. EST) will be the third meeting between Dayton and Louisville this season. Each has a 25-3 record.

—but it was the Cardinals who made off with two of Dayton's setbacks (66-64 in overtime, and 59-56).

The third place game at 1 p. m. also is a rematch. It was St. Joseph's (23-6) that ended an 18-game winning streak by St. Francis (21-3) this season, 80-76.

ST. FRANCIS made it a contest for only 12 minutes, at which point the Terriers led 20-19. They got just two more points in the half—and before Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn started yanking his regulars, the flyers had gone on a 44-9 tear to lead 63-27 with 12 minutes left.

The Terriers had nothing with which to combat 7-foot Bill Uhl, who scored 13 points and finally gave an acceptable accounting for himself in the garden after nine failures, or 6-7 Jim Palmer and 6-6 Jim Paxton, both of whom canned 18 points.

An height advantage also helped the Cardinals shatter St. Joseph's. Charlie Tyra (6-8), who scored 29 points, and Bill Darragh (6-5) hauled down 25 of Louisville's 39 first half rebounds—while St. Joseph's managed only 25 as a team—as Louisville led 45-25.

DOBY, 31, was acquired from the Indians last Oct. 25 in a trade with shortstop Chico Carrasquel and outfielder Jim Busby left Chicago. In eight major seasons, Larry has slammed 202 home runs, leading the league in 1952 and 1954. He also has batted in at least 100 runs four times.

And Doby is doing better than all right in his new uniform. He's hitting a cool .438 in the Grapefruit League with five home runs and 12 runs batted in.

YESTERDAY, HE slammed a pair of homers and drove in five runs as the White Sox sent Milwaukee down to their fifth straight exhibition defeat 8-6. Doby connected off Lew Burdette and Lou Sleater, both times with Minnie Minoso on base.

Meanwhile, both the Indians and Yankees lost.

Hill Named on MECAA All Star Selection

Timmy Hill, Siena College's record-breaking scorer, was voted a spot on the Middle Eastern College Athletic Association All-Star team. Hill received four first place votes and a pair of seconds. Frank Koenig was given honorable mention.

Only unanimous choice was All Innis of St. Francis. Others on the squad are Dan Mannix, St. Francis; Brendon McCann, St. Bonaventure and Dick Kenyon, LeMoyn.

Bell Halts Canadiens

(By The Associated Press)

Gordie Bell, a substitute goalie with vast minor league experience, got an automatic $50 raise when he stepped into the New York Rangers' nets last night against the powerful Montreal Canadiens.

And he earned it.

FILLING IN for the injured Gump Worsley, Bell turned in a sparkling performance as the Rangers defeated the Canadiens 4-2 in one of the biggest upsets in Stanley Cup history. The victory enabled the New Yorkers to even their best-of-seven semifinal series at 1-1.

In the other semifinal playoff, the Detroit Red Wings beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 to take a commanding 2-game lead.

BELL, CALLED up from Three-Rivers of the Quebec League just prior to the playoffs, made his first National Hockey League appearance in 10 years. He was paid $50 for sitting on the sidelines while Montreal slammed seven goals past Worsley in the opener Tuesday night. His salary for last night's effort was $100.

At that price Gordie was a bargain. He turned back 32 shots in a steady, at times, spectacular job.

Hawks Defeat Pistons, 86-85

(By The Associated Press)

You couldn't blame the St. Louis Hawks if they asked to play all of their National Basketball Assn. playoff games on foreign courts.

The Hawks sewed up their first round against Minneapolis on the Lakers' court and last night took a 1-0 lead over Fort Wayne, western division winner, with a 86-85 victory on the Pistons' floor. The second game of the best-of-five series, which will be televised by NBC, will be played at St. Louis Saturday afternoon.

Meantime, the other half of the semi-final round gets underway in Philadelphia tonight with the Syracuse Nationals, conqueror of Boston in the first round, clashing with the warriors, eastern division champions. This also is a best-of-five series with the second game scheduled for Syracuse Sunday afternoon.

DOUG FORD of Mahopac, N. Y., current PGA champion, and six others were bunched at 69. Thirty-five broke par in the first round and another 21 matched it. The field will be trimmed to the 60 low pros and 10 amateurs, plus ties, for the final 36 holes.

Big name pros who couldn't break par included Ted Kroll (72), Cary Middlecoff (73) Bob Tski (74), Lew Worsham (74) and Bo Wininger (73).

Doby Socking Ball at .438 Clip For White Sox in Exhibitions

The Associated Press
Larry Doby, the hard-hitting outfielder of the Chicago White Sox whose hobby is stage plays, is taking a lot of bows this spring.

And if he continues his hefty hitting in the regular season there may be no stopping the Sox.

The team from Chicago's south side has not won an American League pennant since 1919. In the last few years, their trouble has been a lack of power.

DOBY CONCEIVABLY can be the guy to supply it. He hit 26 homers for Cleveland in 1955. That was more than any player on the White Sox, who wound up sixth in the league in circuit blows with 116. The pennant-winning New York Yankees were tops with 175.

DOBY, 31, was acquired from the Indians last Oct. 25 in a trade with shortstop Chico Carrasquel and outfielder Jim Busby left Chicago. In eight major seasons, Larry has slammed 202 home runs, leading the league in 1952 and 1954. He also has batted in at least 100 runs four times.

Chernys Captures Rec Cage Loop Title

Cherny Brothers captured the Women's Recreation League basketball championship last night at MJM as it defeated the Redlegs, 24-19, in the finals of the Shaughnessy playoffs. Audrey Cherny, with 18 points, paced the victory. Phyllis Kaye threw in the other six counters.

AUDREY'S OUTPUT was a little better than her season's and playoff average. Throughout the campaign and in the playoffs, she averaged a scintillating 16.5.

Cherny's took the closely contested duel despite the absence of regular forward Sis Orlieb.

The first period was deadlocked at 6-all, but the winners took over at halftime, 12-7. The Redlegs fought back to go ahead at the three-quarter stop, 17-15. A nine-point last quarter sewed up the win.

THE RED RAIDERS won the consolation game from the Hericranes, 21-15, to take third place. Rosemary Pillsworth, utilizing an accurate hook shot and Mary Myers, hitting from the outer reaches, led the success with 10 points each.

Jane Schipp topped the losers with eight, while Gloria Whitaker added the other seven.

Flock of Fouls
Charlottesville, Va. (AP)—Bob Petterson, a Louisa high school basketball player, figures he owns some kind of record for personal fouls. He committed 12 in one night. Petterson made five fouls in a junior varsity game. Because the Louisa team had only five players, the opposing coach allowed Petterson to remain in the game. Petterson made five more fouls. Then he played in the varsity contest and committed two more fouls.

Clarkson Places Four Skaters on All-Star Team

Boston, March 23 (AP)—Clarkson players dominate this year's all-state hockey league team.

Four players from the Potsdam school were on the team announced yesterday by the American Hockey Coaches Assn. They were defenseman Arthur Smith and Alvin Ziebarth, center Ed Rowe and winger Thomas Meeker.

Others on the first team are William Sloan of St. Lawrence and John Stopen of Rensselaer Polytechnic, who tied for goalie, and Ron O'Keefe of Middlebury and Gary Kearns of RPI, who tied for the other wing position.

THE SECOND TEAM, for which no goalie was chosen because of the first-team deadlock: defensemen Mickey Walker and Charlie Lundberg, and center Leland Fournier, all of St. Lawrence, and wings John Porter and Grant Childrehouse, both of Clarkson.

Bill Harrison of Clarkson was chosen "Coach of the Year" in the league. Other honor selections: Sloan, most valuable player; Kearns, best forward and top sophomore, and Smith, best defenseman.

The coaches association is gathered here for its 10th annual convention, opening today.

Eight Egyptians Killed as Rail Tracks Give Way

Cairo, Egypt, March 23 (AP)—Rails weakened by the widening of a canal gave way beneath a passenger express train early today and eight Egyptians were killed.

The wreck occurred 180 miles south of Cairo, near Maghagha. The train was bound from Cairo to Aswan, Egypt's major winter resort on the upper Nile 360 miles south of the capital.

THE EGYPTIAN State Railways announced the dead were: Bishop Anba Thomas, secretary of the Holy Synod of Egypt's Coptic Christian Church, and a Coptic priest accompanying him.

An Egyptian Army officer, his wife, and their three children. A noncommissioned army officer who was seriously injured and subsequently died.

Railways officials said a "small number" of persons were injured but as yet they were not certain how many.

The conductor of the train and a postman were reported among those injured.

The rails gave way near the Ibrahimiya canal, railway spokesmen said, where workmen had been widening the channel. Water undermined the railroad bed and an embankment collapsed beneath the train.

Plane Loses Propeller

Los Angeles, March 23 (AP)—A propeller flew off a four-engine B29 mother plane and tore clear through its fuselage yesterday just after it released its supersonic experimental baby, a government research official said today. Both craft landed safely at the Muroc Dry Lake flight test base about 60 airline miles northeast of here. The bomber was carrying the needle-nosed, swept-wing rocket plane at 30,000 feet for a scheduled test launching.

DU PONT PAINTS for EVERY PURPOSE

There are two sides to every coin!

SAVING AND SPENDING are the two sides of every coin (every piece of "folding money," too). Your success in getting ahead financially depends largely on which side you look at FIRST. If you look at the SPENDING side first, you may never get around to the SAVING side at all. Better attend to your saving before you even start spending. Deposit the FIRST dollars out of every pay envelope in your savings account and spend what's left over. It's the only method of saving that really works!
